The Vapor-Flo® line of pressure offers all-electric performance designed for reduced noise and no fumes. The machines are heated and powered with electricity and are available in more than 80 configurations designed to meet the needs of domestic and overseas customers. The models include stationary models for fixed applications and several mobile models in different case designs. Daimer® case designs include a chemical resistant stainless steel housing and top loading model that allows for manual refills and operation away from a fixed water source. All Vapor-Flo® machines are covered by company backed warranties for water pumps, motors and other parts.

- Electric powered and electric heated for maximum efficiency and user convenience.
- All electric pressure washers generate no exhaust. Their clean-burning operation is ideal for indoor commercial and industrial applications.
- This 220V-240V, single phase, 60 Hz machine is also available in 220V-240V, single phase, 50 Hz. See the Vapor-Flo® 7910.
- Top temperatures reach up to 205°F for optimum cleaning power.
